

Gaylord, Houghton Lake District B. B. Champs

LARGE CROWDS WITNESS ANNUAL SCHOOL AFFAIR

For three days the high school athletes of eleven different schools played before big crowds in the Grayling gym as the annual district tournament was run off, and the two survivors of the desperate battles crowned after the finals on Saturday night took the trophies back home in triumph. Houghton Lake took the Class D title for the second successive year, and Gaylord grabbed the Class C award again. It is unusual for winners to repeat in each class at the same time.

Gaylord won its crown in victories over West Branch 28 to 12 and Grayling 25 to 18. Houghton Lake had to play three times, taking Mio, Vanderbilt, and St. Marys. The Class D final game was one of the best games of the tournament as the teams fought it out to the bitter end. The Lakesiders got a one point decision, 14 to 15. St. Marys came to the finals via a pair of wins, as Frederic and Roscommon fell victims to their come-back attacks. Grayling earned a place on the last evening's entertainment by virtue of a hard-won victory over Mancelona.

The attendance for the four sessions of tournament play was splendid, with financial success for the venture assured. The rivalry was keen, and a dozen towns were represented as the play went on. The Friday night crowd was the largest of the past half dozen seasons. The officials, who are a big factor in the success of a tournament, were Gil Runkel of Lake Orion and Walter J. MacMillan of Petoskey. The state selections were eminently satisfactory.

The winners of the local tournament go to the Regional at Petoskey this week in quest of further honors, with the good wishes of the defeated teams of District No. 40. The Gaylord team, coached by John Makel, included Bud Simmons, Arlow and Arnold Boyce, Howard Benser, Clare Glasser, Dean DeLaMater, Robert Libcke, Shirley Goodrich, Donald Fitzpatrick and Norman Madsen. Houghton Lake's champions, coached by Edward Rankin, list Gerald Baker, Alden Beebe, Jack Gould, Edward Schnepf, Wilber Walling, John Whipple, Owen Murray, Einar Soderman, William Kepler, and Leon Holman.

For the first time in this tournament a game had to be settled on the scorebook. St. Joe and Roscommon played to a 14-14 tie at the end of one overtime. As that is all the state allows in tournament play, the scorebook settled the game in favor of Roscommon.

The tournament ran off smoothly through the cooperation of many factors, and its all over for another year.

Houghton Lake 20—Mio 9
Houghton opened the tournament for the third straight year, this time taking Mio for the third time this season. The Mio team couldn't match their more experienced opponents. Houghton missed a lot of shots, but got enough down to proceed to victory without great danger.

Roscommon 15—St. Joe 14
It was a bruiser; hard fought clear through. Though Roscommon led most of the time St. Joe came from behind to tie it up, and in the overtime they stepped out to a 12-14 lead on a miraculous long shot by Schulthies. Two free throws, the second by Meade with seven seconds to go, retied the count and it ended that way. Each team made the same number of field goals, but Roscommon had six of sixteen free throws, with St. Joe getting six out of twenty-two. That decided the game, the extra point was given to Roscommon and they were the official victors. It was a thrilling game.

St. Marys 41—Frederic 15
St. Marys found a good deal of opposition for a quarter. It ended 7-6, and it was 8-8 a moment later. But from there the Blue and White went on to win, and they kept hitting the basket steadily, with the scoring well spread over the team.

Houghton Lake 21—Vanderbilt 18
Vanderbilt proved to be pretty interesting opposition for the Class D champs. They had a 4-4 count at the quarter, trailed 9-10 at the half. Houghton pulled away in the third period, only to have the surprising northerners stage a last period rally when all seemed lost. They made a ball game of it in their first tournament appearance here in some time.

St. Marys 19—Roscommon 11
Roscommon started out as if they meant to give St. Marys a real cleaning. It was 9-2 at the quarter, and after that St. Marys began to climb. In the second half they passed their rivals and went on to increase their lead to fairly comfortable proportions. St. Marys controlled the ball game for the last half.

Grayling 27—Mancelona 18
This was a battle, with Mancelona giving Grayling a struggle clear through. No matter what the score it was good entertainment as the Class C rivals battled it out. Grayling outscored the opposition from the field and the foul line and deserved to win.

Gaylord 28—West Branch 12
Gaylord got a first-half advantage on the Orange and Black which they couldn't make up, though they nearly stayed even in the second half of the game. Gaylord won a deserved victory in this affair and advanced to the semi-finals, though this game was good entertainment for the big

Friday night crowd.

Houghton Lake 15—St. Marys 14
A real thriller. Houghton Lake opened up with an attack that netted eleven points before St. Marys got a free throw with but seconds left in the first half. But St. Marys came back with nine points in the third quarter to one for Houghton Lake, and the period ended 10-12. St. Marys tied it at 12-12 as the last quarter.

Mrs. Louis Herbison Passed Away Fri.

HAD BEEN IN ILL HEALTH SEVERAL YEARS

Mrs. Louis D. Herbison passed away at her home Friday forenoon at 11:00 o'clock. Death resulted from several years of ill health. She was 39 years of age. Anna Caroline Boesen was the only daughter of the late Torkild and Mrs. Boesen. She was born in Grayling in 1896 and spent practically her entire life here. She attended Grayling schools, finishing her education by attending Ashland High school at Grant, Mich., and later at Grandview College in Des Moines, Iowa.

In 1911 she, with her mother, made a trip to Denmark, visiting the former home of her parents. Upon her return she entered the office of Salling Hanson Co. store where she continued her employment until the year 1920 when she was united in marriage to Louis D. Herbison. In May of 1921 a daughter was born and died at birth and in August, 1922 their son Robert was born.

While passing out of this life at an early age, Mrs. Herbison leaves behind many cherished memories of the beautiful life she lived. Her happy, cheerful girlhood and her sterling Christian womanhood were an inspiration to her parents and those who knew her best. She was a faithful daughter, wife and mother and in spite of her last years of illness and suffering she was always patient, cheerful and friendly. Mrs. Herbison was a former president of the Woman's club, the Mercy Hospital Aid society, and of the Danish Ladies Aid society, and when her health permitted was one of the most ardent workers in these societies.

The funeral was held Monday afternoon from the Danish Lutheran church of which she was a lifelong member. Rev. Juhl officiated and took for his theme "Homeward Bound." The hymn "Homeward Bound" was also beautifully rendered by the choir. Interment was in Elmwood cemetery and following were the pallbearers: J. L. Martin, Jappe Smith, Axel and Adolph Peterson, Herluf Sorenson and Jess Sales.

Mrs. Herbison is survived by her husband and son Robert and her mother Mrs. Olga Boesen. Those from out of the city in attendance at the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Herbison of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Collier and Miss Anna Herbison, Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Grouleff, Muncie, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Grouleff, Greenburg, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Lemet, Fort Wayne; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hornbeck of Juhl; Mr. and Mrs. Einar Rasmussen, Marlette, and Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Fletcher, Flint.

The family have the sympathy of hosts of friends in their sorrow.

TOURNAMENT PAYS

In spite of the fact that the Class C group in competition here this year was somewhat smaller than usual, making the tournament shorter by one session, Mr. Poor informs us that expenses were met 100%.

Friday night was the biggest tournament night we have had here in several years, with total gate receipts amounting to $175.30. In all, there were paid 622 public admissions, 506 student admissions, and 83 season tickets; 1211 paid admissions. In addition to these, each of the ten teams was allowed 18 passes.

The total gate receipts for all three days were $502.35, out of which all expenses; board, room, and transportation, for the ten competing schools, salary of officials, cost of trophies, and cost of balls, have to be paid. In addition, there is a cut of 10% which goes to the state.

This annual tournament is always one of the high spots of the winter season, providing a rush crowd and local excitement equalled only by the Snow Carnival. Visitors for miles around swarmed over the town, filling tourist houses and hotels, spending money for meals and gasoline, and having the time of their lives celebrating the beginning of the end of ol' King Basketball for the year.

The Purr of Steel Runners

(By Ben G. Wright, East Michigan Tourist Association)

A summer resort once asked a northern Michigan native "But what do you do in the winter?"

"Wait for spring," the native replied.

But let that same resort put forth the same inquiry today and the native's response would be an enthusiastic declaration "Get ready for our Winter Sports."

The day when the northerners and the black bear went hand in hand to their hibernation is gone. No longer do the natives find themselves bored with one another when summer is passed.

Instead, with the first frost every home and store in the northland is aglow with snow carnival enthusiasm.

Winter Sports made their first bid for statewide and national acclaim ten years ago this January when the 2000 souls that make up the village of Grayling came to the conclusion their huge snowdrifts and smooth, glassy lakes were going to waste. They decided to do something about it. A rather inadequate winter sports layout was constructed on one of the hills outside of the city. The first few years were successful—so pronounced, in fact, that a steeper incline was selected in 1930 and a small but loyal band of Graylingites set about the task of building the Winter Sports Park that today commands the attention of the entire midwest.

The present plant involves an expenditure of $30,000, a mighty sum for any community the size of Grayling to put out. And thirty-thousand isn't all. For years the civic minded men found their steps headed toward the park each fall when the summer residents departed leaving the natives with little to occupy their time until winter set in.

Ground was cleared—stumps blasted from their moorings in that time-worn soil—shrubs trimmed and excavations sunk for the skating rink. One stump, according to the now deceased, loved Rube Babbitt, was larger than any tree ever seen growing in the Grayling area. It required nineteen sticks of dynamite to split the base and several lesser charges to loosen the mighty monarch sufficiently to allow a ten ton tractor to drag it from the ground in three pieces.

So today, as a monument to a type of citizen envied by all communities but possessed by few Winter Sports Park stands loftily atop the highest hill in Crawford County, a mound whose summit is so far into the clouds toboggans race down its side at an established speed of 90-miles-an-hour.

The park is accessible from Grayling in fifteen minutes. It lies at the eastern extremity of the 18,000 acre Hanson Military Reservation, summer home of the Michigan National Guards. A broad, flat plateau forms the entrance to the plant. It is a central meeting and resting place for those who seek the higher altitude of the steep incline that houses the slides.

Ski jumpers who come to leap from the steep slide aver that the layout compares most favorably with the Lake Placid plant. "It is not as fast in some departments," they say "but it is concentrated to allow the visitor to see everything from one vantage point, while the eastern resort is so arranged that one must travel three to five miles if he is to take in all the facilities."

The elevation at Grayling is almost as high as that of the eastern resorts and the temperature is practically identical.

Since their inauguration, Winter Sports have collected a good following in the American public, and the Snow Shows have brought many thousands of dollars into the small northern communities that might otherwise encounter difficulty pulling out of the winter in the black. On occasion of the 1934 Grayling Carnival the restaurants in the village were unable to care for the trade brought in by the show. Inns, taverns, hotels and lunch counters as far south as Standish—nearly 100 miles—were taxed to capacity all during the celebration.

It was estimated that ten thousand persons went down the slide in a single day last season.

Winter Sports have a new and distinct appeal to that class of individual who finds the outdoors invigorating during the cold months. Popular with a great many is hiking on snowshoes or skis. Because the majority of the trees in the north country are of the coniferous group the woods are never more beautiful than in winter. Huge pine, fir, spruce and balsam, heavily laden with pure white snow, afford a rare sight once one is off the beaten path and making his way through the untouched forests.

Hiking in the winter in the north country takes on an "exploring" aspect. One encounters little civilization, less it be a picturesque cabin inhabited by a trapper, a fisher or just a plain and simple down and outer.

Everywhere the reception one gets is the same. Hospitality has reached its zenith in the north land.

"Come as you are" is the slogan they foster up in the untainted lands. For the most part, heavy woolen pants and shirts, a pair of boots and an ear-muffled cap of some description make up the ordinary masculine attire, while the women find the lighter snow suits, breeches and boots much to their comfort.

Though the temperature is cold, the type of weather one encounters in the north is dry and soothing in contrast to the damp, penetrating winds of the southern cities. A temperature of zero and below in the north is not nearly as noticeable as one slightly above freezing in the southern portion of the state.

The air is stimulating, reviving, life-giving, bracing. The nights are clear and cold. A sunset in the northland at twilight is a difficulty forgotten sight. Old Sol shines brilliantly through the light evening mists, casting beautiful multi-colored rays over his entire countenance.

To one who has never known Michigan, the northern lights will well up great wonderment. Flashing, darting streaks appear on the horizon. The next moment the whole picture is changed and the shades and colors represented are entirely varied. These capers often continue long into the night, at times still casting their reflections over the peaceful earth at sun-up.

Among the sports listed on the snow show program are skating, skate-sailing, skiing, snowshoeing, ski-joring, sleigh rides, tobogganing, ice-boating, ice hockey, ski jumping, ice fishing and bob-sledding.

The highways into the north are clean and bare, the state plows operating from the time a storm breaks until all arteries are cleared.

Every conceivable housing accommodation is to be had. For those who prefer seclusion back in the frozen forests, heated cabins are available and whose interiors center in town finds hotels and taverns.

The purr of steel runners can be heard filtering through the forests. The northland is ready.

Senior Play Next Wednesday Night

The annual Senior Play will be presented across the footlights of the High School auditorium next Wednesday night, March 13th has no superstitious connections for the Class of '35, and interest in the amateur dramatists should overcome any fears on the part of the public. Keep next Wednesday night open and be on hand for an evening of good entertainment.

"The Tale of Two Sillies" is labeled "a farce comedy in three acts" and it lives up to its reputation. Its sort of play which carries a lot of clever lines, some good characterizations, and plenty of audience appeal. The standard for High School plays set by Miss Berry promises to be upheld or even exceeded. As the first of the high school productions of this year it should draw good patronage.

The caste, selected with and drilled for countless rehearsals, carries a lot of natural ability to start with. It has received careful training and should entertain with real effectiveness. Some of the most popular members of the class of '35 will present this play to the public. The girls in the list of characters include Josephine Robarge, Eva Mae Bugby, Jean Peterson, and Beverly Schmale. The fellows who carry lines in this play include Alex Kochanowski, Harvey Regan, Donald Charron, Charles Corwin, Roger Kneff, and Sam Gust.

Tickets are being sold by the members of the Senior class. The reserve seating chart is at the Central Drug store as usual, where tickets may also be purchased. Prices are 25 and 10, with an extra 10c fee for the reservation.

CCC WORKER FATALLY INJURED

Stanislaw Gosicki, age 22 years old, an enrollee of CCC company 674 was fatally injured Friday afternoon. The accident occurred while working in the woods, when he was unable to get out of the way of a falling tree, being hampered by the deep snow.

The young man was hurried to Mercy Hospital by fellow workmen, where he died a few hours later without regaining consciousness.

This is the first fatality to occur in the camps in this vicinity.

Ask For $95,000.00 Public Works Money

Grayling village has filed applications for the construction of local public works amounting to $95,000. Among the projects listed are for sanitary and storm sewers on the North and South Sides of the town; sewage disposal plant; grading and resurfacing streets; and community building.

It is estimated that the disposal plant would cost $15,000, and the sanitary sewers on the South Side, $11,000. The completion of the basements to provide room for manual training would cost about $4,500, and a new roof and floors and new heating unit for the South Side school would cost $1,500.

Other improvements listed take in a new fire escape for the school gymnasium, and bleacher seats for the base ball park. Just how much we will get of these projects remains to be seen.

CUBS DEFEAT HOUGHTON LAKE

Last Tuesday night the Grayling Cubs were victorious over the Houghton Lake Indians by the score of 48-38 in a free scoring contest that kept the spectators on their feet during most of the game. Both teams' defensive play was poor and consequently a large score was the result. As usual the Cubs depended on their fine passing attack to outscore their opponents. Sorenson led the scoring attack or the locals while Rankin was high point man for Houghton Lake.

The Cubs are entered in the Lumberjack Independent tournament that is to be staged at the local gym next week. The boys are out to win this tourney if possible, but win or lose they will be out there fighting until the final whistle blows. From all appearances it certainly looks as though the Lumberjack tournament this year will be a great success and basketball fans will see some of the best teams in northern Michigan competing for honors in this event.

Legion Jottings

The American Legion masked ball was a success in many ways although there was not as large an attendance as was hoped for. It was a grand party, being very orderly and everyone who did attend say they had a very good time.

The grand parade was held about 11:40 and showed that some of our good patrons can make up in a clever way.

The four prizes given by the Bugle & Drum Corps were won as follows: Clarence B. Johnson, best dressed gent, and Miss Emma Hendrickson with Dutch costume as best dressed lady; Mrs. Sam Rasmussen, most comical lady, and Sam Smith, most comical man.

The judges were Mrs. Grant Thompson, O. P. Schumann and Ronnow Hanson, who were stationed in different parts of the gym and did not know who was being picked out by the other judges and a secret ballot was held. They were very fair in their judging.

The Bugle & Drum Corps wish to thank all who have helped to make our parties a success and we hope we will be able to return it with good service to the public.

The Bugle & Drum Corps is nearly up to the full strength now, only room for two more buglers so Buddy, if you have a desire to play, come out. You're welcome to try out our bugles.

The Homecoming committee is getting ready now for the largest gathering of people that Grayling has ever seen. There are loads of effort being put forth to get all the former Grayling people back here for the celebration. Letters are being mailed out every day in large quantities.

Do you know there are nearly 140 ex-service men in Crawford County? Why not everyone of you Comrades join our forces and help put things across. We need every one of you who are willing to put your shoulder to the wheel.

The Buglers say the "Rotten drummers" and the Drummers reverse the decision. Ain't it grand? But we get along very well for all that.

There are some ex-service men in Maple Forest and Frederic we would like to have as members of our Post. Let's hear from you, Buddies.

Week At Lansing

(By FRANK D. BROWN,
Special Correspondent)

Now that the state conventions of the two parties are things of the past and the special elections in the four legislative districts will be out of the way early next week, it is expected the legislature will be able to settle down to serious business during the coming four weeks in an effort to meet the demand of the governor that the session be not prolonged beyond the 90 days he has set for it. It is believed the executive is even willing to sacrifice much of his program, if it has not been enacted into law by that time, to carry out his pledge to get the lawmakers out of Lansing by March 31.

At the speed with which the sessions have acted so far, it would be an impossibility to complete their work within the time designated, however, now that the preliminaries have been dispensed with, every attempt will be made to accelerate the deliberations. The coming days will see bills pouring forth from the committees by the dozens and disposed of at a rapid pace.

Despite a well founded belief that the law creating the state administrative board would fail of approval, the senate has passed the repeal bill by a vote of 19 to 10. The bill will find a much rougher course to travel through the House where the democrats will likely make a strong bid to retain the present setup whereby the elective state officers are members of a board which in effect functions much like the President's cabinet in the national government. The administrative board has been in existence since 1921. Lieut.-Gov. Tom Read, who is generally regarded as the central figure in the patronage squabble in the senate which a short time ago resulted in the organization of a coalition of republican and democratic senators opposed to certain Fitzgerald recommendations, would be elevated to an important position in the administration as a member of the committee on claims in event legislation recommended by the governor or becomes law. The governor now serves as chairman of that committee but Mr. Fitzgerald reports that he is too busy to give attention to the work involved. In his action is seen a growing desire to make the lieutenant governor of the state something more than just a figurehead in government.

Important phases of the administration's program are gradually coming to the front in the form of bills including proposals to abolish the state securities commission, the office of the state librarian and the state historical commission. The elimination of these commissions is a part of a well defined program to decentralize government and properly allocate responsibilities.

In lieu of the securities commission, a Michigan corporation and securities commission is proposed. This group would take over all the duties of the old commission in addition to absorbing the work of the present corporations division of the department of state.

As indicated by the number of bills that have come out of senate committees and acted upon by that house, the senate is the only one that the administration has been able to depend upon to date. It has a republican majority whereas, the House is so strongly democratic that there has existed great danger of most measures for reorganization being ignominiously defeated regardless of what merit they might contain. It has been this feeling on the part of administration leaders that has delayed the work of the lawmakers.

The senate has passed the Watson resolution providing that in cases of a tie vote in election contests, recounts shall be conducted by the state board of canvassers instead of the legislature. The resolution is intended for submission to the voters in the April election in the shape of a constitutional amendment. The resolution is designed to prevent recurrence of such farces as took place in the last legislative recount, subsequent investigation of which has revealed an organized attempt to "steal" an election by questionable methods.

Nothing further will be done regarding the several contested seats in the House and Senate, according to Senator Don VanderWerp (R) of Fremont, chairman of the senate elections committee. Although it has not been verified, it is believed the election committees of the two houses have come to some sort of an agreement whereby the entire matter will be forgotten and those senators and representatives now holding office will be allowed to remain.

Gov. Fitzgerald has signed the measure providing for the extension of the state moratorium on land contracts and mortgage foreclosures. The original moratorium would have terminated March 1. The time is now extended to March 1, 1937.

An emergency allotment of $1,645,000 to needy school districts was given approval by the administrative board this week, bringing the total special aid this year up to $3,043,000.

School finance has become an important problem and constitutes one of the more serious ones before the lawmakers. Rep. A. H. Lee (R) of Royal Oak has introduced a resolution calling for a constitutional amendment to do away with the primary school fund. The proposal would place all revenues now collected for the primary fund into the general fund and in turn would be disbursed to the school districts. In a companion bill he would have the state guarantee the pay of public school teachers.

Gov. Fitzgerald has sent a warning to the legislature that adequate financial aid for the public schools is dependent upon enactment of his economy program. If the legislature refuses to pass administration measures providing for the consolidation of the many state departments, he declares, the treasury will be unable to meet the demands of the schools.

"The responsibility is the legislature's," the executive said. "The bills in question are designed to save money so that there will be more for the schools. There must be no new taxes."

New York Celtics Play At Saginaw

WILL TACKLE THREE TEAMS IN ONE EVENING

Saginaw, Mich., March 7—Six basketball magicians will come to Saginaw Wednesday night, March 20th, to unfold the secrets of basketball. Better known as the Original New York Celtics champions of the world, who present the last word in basketball, this famed aggregation of cage stars will take on three of Saginaw's best independent teams playing each club 20 minutes each. As one of the three opponents to run up against the Celtics, Manager H. J. Huebner has lined up the crack Chevrolet Foundry team who have won 14 straight games this season with no defeats, and twice trimmed the Flint Chevrolet Flyers and the rated as one of the best three teams in the state.

Fans who witnessed the Celtics in action last year were positively amazed at the Houdini-like maneuvers of this veteran team. In short the most dazzling exhibition of basketball a person is ever privileged to see. The Celtics bring back the same team composed of Lapchick, Barry, Dehnert, Banks, Hickey and Herlihy. All of these men have played together over a long stretch of years. The game will be played either at the City Auditorium or the Central Junior High School gym. The Celtics have been drawing record crowds this year and last year they attracted the largest crowd to ever witness a professional game in Saginaw. Mail orders are being received now by the Triangle Athletic Club and may be had by writing to H. J. Huebner, Saginaw, Mich. General admission has been set at forty (40) cents.

NEWS BRIEFS

Results of Recreational League games played last evening: Wildcats 12, Chiefs 8; Businessmen 7, Masons 0.

More appropriate than to call it a "Fifth Class" city would be to say "Home Rule" city. That is what it would really mean if the incorporation election carries.

Harry and Arthur Worden attended the funeral of their sister Miss Bessie Worden, age 19 years, that was held at Kalkaska last Friday. The young lady passed away at Lapeer. She at one time resided in Grayling.

Don't forget the township caucuses next Tuesday night. The Republican caucus will be held at the Court house and the Democratic caucus at the Town Hall. Both begin at 8:00 o'clock. Nominations for township officers will be made at that time.

Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Keyport were guests at the Army and Navy ball in Detroit last week. This was held at the new navy armory and there were about a thousand people in attendance. Among the guests were most of the National Guard officers who annually come to Grayling for training.

At the meeting of the Kiwanis club Wednesday noon Willard Cornell, high school principal and coach gave a very interesting talk on vocational training. Dr. Kellerman of Kalkaska was a guest and extended an invitation to the local Kiwanians to take part in a trout festival to be held in that city May 1st.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brady and son Joseph were in Detroit Saturday, where they attended the wedding of their nephew Bernard Brady, to Miss Ann Corn, that was solemnized at St. Gregory's church. The groom is the son of Frank Brady and the family were former residents of Grayling.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Skingley returned home Friday from Texas and Arkansas where they spent the past two months. They brought back many articles natural to those states. Among them are clusters of natural crystals that would defy an expert to determine that they had not been cut by professional diamond cutters.

With the high school tournament over, basketball fans are waiting now for the independent tournament that will be staged at the Grayling school gym on March 14, 15 and 16. There are nineteen teams entered and drawings are to be made the latter part of this week. Which team is going to be the champion of northern Michigan? This tournament is to solve this.

Monday will occur the Village election. Besides the election of the usual village officers, voters will be asked to vote on the question of city incorporation and also elect nine charter commissioners. Fourteen names appear on the ballot for charter commissioners from which list nine will be elected. Look over the list carefully and select nine men for the job whom you feel will be most able to assist in drawing up a set of city laws and determine the form of government that is best fitted for Grayling.

League Standings (2nd half)

Team	W	L
Wildcats	2	0
Masons	1	1
Businessmen	1	1
Chiefs	0	2

The Businessmen tallied their first win in this half by defeating the Chiefs in a bitter struggle to hold their prestige of strong contenders for victory in this half of the season. The Chiefs piled up a six run lead in the first two innings off from the delivery of Ted Wheeler, the new rookie find, and seemed certain of victory, but the Businessmen unleashed a batting attack in the third and pushed six runs across to tie the old ball game up. Both Wheeler and Broadbent settled down after the third inning and did some fine pitching. The Businessmen with two out in the ninth, scored the winning run, giving them a 7-6 victory.

The Wildcats, still fighting and clawing and determined to hold the lead, turned back the strong Mason squad by a 7-4 count. The Wildcats secured an early lead and held it throughout the game, but at times the Masons threatened to take the lead from them, and the fine support given Gothro in the field were too much for the Masons. Erkes was on the mound for the Masons.

The indoor baseball games will be seven-inning games starting this week, instead of the usual nine.

NAME YOUR FAVORITE PLANT

The movement that is on for the "Improvement and Beautification of U. S. 27" from Lansing to Cheboygan is holding the interest of the local Civic Improvement League and the civic committee of the Womens club at present. These organizations hope to have a good representation of women and young men at the conservation program that is called for the purpose of discussing this matter at Central State Teachers college on March 15.

A flower, shrub or vine is to be selected as a predominating plant to add color to the roadside, and there will be a booth in the postoffice Friday and Saturday, where you may leave your vote on the plant you think most suited for this purpose.

The committees in charge suggest the following that will thrive well in this locality:

Flowers—Poppy, Cosmos, Alyssum, petunia, Shasta daisy, Rose moss, sweet William, Gaillardia, bachelor buttons, hollyhocks.

Shrubs—Bush honeysuckle (Tatarica); bridal wreath, spirea VanHouttei; spirea Anthony Weller; snowberry, Rugosa rose, high bush cranberry, Deutzia (pride of Rochester).

Vines—Virginia creeper Clematis Paniculata, silver lace vine, bitter sweet.

THROUGH A Woman's Eyes
By JEAN NEWTON

LIFE AFTER NINETY

AN EMINENT French inventor, interviewed on his ninetieth birthday, commented that life is too short. Life, he felt, should be longer. "There are so many interesting things to be done," he said, "so much to learn."

Don't we find it thrilling, one of our readers wants to know, that a man of ninety should be so untiring as still to feel that life is too short? Since this man is an inventor, perhaps he will have an idea for prolonging our lives—and wouldn't that be great!

Sorry to be so perverse, but not for me. From a detached viewpoint, going on indefinitely after ninety holds few charms for me.

And this nonagenarian who is not only willing but eager to go on taking it strikes me as rather exceptional. It may be his luck in what he chose as his life-work. Inventing can make the hours fly, so perhaps it can make ninety years seem as nothing. More usually, men and women who reach that age are not "untired."

As for the things to be learned, I should say that what we cannot learn and do before we reach ninety, we are not very likely to learn afterward.

If such powers are to be given to scientists, I should say try to prolong youth—rather than prolong life after ninety. By youth, I do not mean childhood, but the years of power—power of body and mind—to power to learn and do and enjoy. To prolong that time for everybody to beyond sixty would seem to me more important than to prolong mere living to beyond a hundred.

Question Box By ED WYNN The Perfect Fool

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I am a girl twenty-three years old and have lived all my life in the country, and I have just made up my mind to move to the city. I am a pretty good cook and that is why I am writing to you. What I want to know is: Do many city people "keep" cooks?

Truly yours,
MARMA LAJHE

Answer: They do not. But most people engage another as soon as one leaves.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
It isn't that I am opposed to a person playing cards for money, but I would like you to settle an argument between my wife and me. The question is, "Can an honest man play poker?"

Sincerely,
JACK O'DIAMONDS.

Answer: Of course he can, but he won't win.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I saw a man with both his hands bandaged and I asked him how it happened. He didn't answer me. I later found out the reason he didn't answer me was because he was deaf and dumb. I also heard his hands were bandaged because every joint in his fingers is broken. How do you account for an accident like that?

Sincerely,
DINAH MITE.

Answer: He is deaf and dumb. The joints of his fingers are broken; very simple: he most likely broke them by cracking jokes on his fingers.

Dear Mr. Wynn:

I know a man living right here in New York who is a millionaire, yet he has been wearing the same suit for the past seven years and looks as if he is broke. I once asked him why he, with all his money, didn't buy a new suit, and he said everybody in New York knew he could afford a new suit, and as long as everybody knew him he couldn't see what difference it made. Last month a friend of mine saw him in Philadelphia (where he doesn't know a soul) and he had on the same suit. How do you figure that out?

Sincerely,
IZZIE X. ENTRICK.

Answer: He said everybody knows him in New York and they know he can afford better clothes, so it doesn't make any difference how he dresses. He probably figures that when he is in Philadelphia he can dress the same way because nobody knows him, so it doesn't make any difference how he dresses.

Dear Mr. Wynn:
I have never traveled on a train. I hear a lot about Pullman porters. What are they?

Yours truly,
CY TSEER.

Answer: A Pullman porter is a colored fellow who won't let you step off the train, but insists on brushing you off.

Mother's Cook Book

DAINTY DISHES

SOME time when entertaining one's friends at a dinner try this method of serving sweet potato:

Orange Sweet Potato.
Cook the sweet potatoes in their skins, peel, mash and season with butter, salt and white pepper. Prepare the halves of oranges that have been squeezed of their juice, by removing all the white inner lining of the skins. Fill them with the seasoned potato and about twenty minutes before serving time place them in the oven to become hot; a small piece of marshmallow may be placed on top to brown or a sprig of parsley used on top for a garnish when serving.

Coconut Drops.
Grate a fresh coconut and add to it half its weight in sugar, stir until well mixed, then add one beaten egg white and drop on buttered tin and bake in a slow oven until brown.

Oyster Soup.
Add four tablespoonsful of quick cooking tapioca to a quart of rich milk, two tablespoonsful of salt, and cook until the tapioca is clear, stirring often and cooking in a double boiler. Add one cupful of oysters and the oyster liquor, a dash of cayenne and paprika and four tablespoonsful of butter. Serve when the oysters are curled.

Ozark Soup.
Cover a fresh soup bone with cold water and simmer until the meat is tender, adding salt toward the end of the cooking. Strain the broth and to one quart of the broth add one medium-sized potato cut into dice, and one-half cupful of washed rice. Let cook until tender, then add one can of tomatoes, bring to the boiling point, add a tablespoonful of flour mixed with one cupful of sweet cream, boil five minutes, add seasoning of salt and pepper and serve. For further flavor add one teaspoonful of sugar, a little chopped celery, a pinch of curry powder and a bit of mace with a few dashes of cayenne pepper.

Fascinating Tunic Dress

Striking in material and motif is this fascinating new tunic dress. The fabric is navy blue taffeta with white polka dots. The suit is closely fitted at the hip and skirt, and cut with deep raglan sleeves, which are turned back at three-quarter length to form deep cuffs. Really stunning is the wide ruching which is made of self material, cut on the bias and fringed at the edges. Three rows are used on the tunic, another row forms the Pierrot collar, and the same ruching is used on the navy blue straw hat. A blue velvet bow is caught in the neck ruff, and a velvet ribbon carelessly knotted forms the belt. Navy blue suede was selected for bag and gloves, and matching kid for the pumps.

CHICKS STAY HEALTHY, IF HOUSES-ARE CLEAN

Early Chicks Pay Best But More Attention Must Be Given To Rearing

Rising prices and a more favorable outlook for poultry will undoubtedly lead to an increased demand from Michigan farmers for baby chicks this spring, and buyers are warned by the poultry department at Michigan State College not to jeopardize the success of chick raising by failing to get the brooding quarters ready early.

Early chicks have the best chance to mature sufficiently to be ready to go in the laying house as producing pullets when eggs are the best prices. These chicks are harder to raise because more careful attention must be paid to maintaining brooder temperatures and to the prevention of diseases within the houses. This attention should be given, however, and an early start made to obtain the most profits from the future flock.

Brooder houses should be thoroughly cleaned before any chicks are placed in them. Thorough cleaning means considerable hard work and plenty of hot water, but, if any dirt is left in the house, it probably will be a refuge for bacteria which will kill the chicks later. Sprinkling disinfectant in a house does not clean it. The disinfectant will not penetrate dirt which is present, so the dirt should be removed before the disinfectant is used.

Scrubbing the house with plenty of water and soap is more important than using disinfectant. A coarse broom or brush will save a lot of back bending in the scrubbing process. Use the disinfectant after the house is cleaned and follow the manufacturer's directions.

Early chicks have to stay in house until good weather comes, but clean range should be ready for them when they go outside. No range should be used upon which poultry has run within the past two years. Several of the kinds of bacteria which cause chick diseases will live in soil for two years. If the ground is contaminated with these bacteria, the chicks will become infected. There is no profit in treating sick chicks. Disease outbreaks should be prevented. Clean houses and ranges will do this.

HORNS THAT REALLY ARE NOT HORNS

"That's what I'd call good, sound common sense," said another voice, and a bird very near Snowflake's size, and who at first glance seemed to be dressed almost wholly in soft chocolate brown, alighted on the snow and began to run around in search of seeds. It was Wanderer, the Horned Lark. Peter had known him ever since his first winter, yet did not feel really acquainted, for

"Wild Bill" Cummings, national A. A. A. racing champion, recently took delivery of his second Chevrolet—a new 1935 Master De Luxe sedan with which he is pictured above. Cummings became a Chevrolet owner following his victory at Indianapolis last December. Homemakers' Corner

Michigan State College
By Home Economics Specialists

"Children's clothing can be made cheaper at home" is an economic half-truth, according to home economics clothing specialists at Michigan State College. It is quite possible to save some money, if the mother has skill in sewing and is willing to buy a good quality fabric, but the saving is not always equal to the effort.

The biggest advantage in home-made children's garments is that "self-help" and "let-out" features may be included. These features are not as yet common in the ready-made garments. The extra handwork touches, such as fagoting and embroidering, to be found on little girls' dresses, are less expensive when made at home.

Recent studies made by students in children's clothing at Michigan State College on comparative costs of homemade and readymade garments have shown that the piece goods departments do not carry any fabric as cheap or poor in quality as that found in the cheapest price range of readymade dresses and suits.

The project for each student in the class was to make a little girl's dress and a little boy's suit. The finished garments were then compared with readymade garments of similar quality, design, and workmanship.

Ready-to-wear suits for the preschool boy priced under one dollar were made of heavily sized material which was not pre-shrunk. The fabric design in many cases was not pleasing and the garments provided no "self-help" features or "let-out" features for growth. The suits selling at $1.95 were of excellent material, guaranteed color fast, pre-shrunk, of ample cut and good workmanship, and several designs included "self-help" features. The boys' suits made in the class compared favorably in fabric, design, and work-cost, on an average, $1.26, a saving of 69 cents. The comparative saving on other priced suits was 16 and 22 cents.

The little girls' dresses which were made in the class were of color-fast fabric of good quality, designed with both "self-help" and "let-out" features, and each had some kind of decorative trim, such as fagoting or smocking. Their average cost was $1.23 and compared favorably with ready-to-wear dresses at $2.98. This saving is undoubtedly worthwhile if the mother has time in which to make them, and the ability to sew well and easily.

The value of the time taken from other household tasks and the amount of effort required to make the garment should be taken into consideration when the homemaker plans to make the children's wardrobe at home. Instead

TO MY CHILD

By ANNE CAMPBELL

SOMETIME in years to come, when the strong sea of life is threatening, with you afraid,

I hope that courage comes with thoughts of me.

And you recall the hope that ever made

A green place in the desert of our lives.

We have made much of little and been gay.

When your own disillusionment arrives,

Remember love that sweetened every day.

I wish I could build love into a wall

So thick and high you never would be caught

In life's swift eddies. . . If you hear a call

From a far place, it will express this thought:

There was no road too difficult to take;

There was no task too hard for your dear sake.

A Few Minor Changes—

Nobody thinks it peculiar if a large part of our people buy new suits, dresses, etc., in the spring even if the old ones aren't entirely worn out. Then why have the house remain the same old house year after year until it becomes a landmark. A few minor changes will create in you a new interest in your home and help the carpenter live too.

We missed our January thaw this year, but March has sure ushered in a real break-up. We didn't really realize how much snow we did have, even if the drifts along the road were head high in places, until warm winds and rains began to diminish them. We hadn't noticed how the ice on the roads had been piling up until drainage problems made necessary the opening of gutters. Right on main street, when workmen began clearing away, ice was found to be from 18 inches to two feet deep—the winter's accumulation packed in an inch at a time.

Andrew Erickson and daughter Miss Maxine spent the week end in Bay City.

The 4-H Club held their meeting this week at the home of Paul Feldhauser.

Francis Brady accompanied by Clifford Ross and Marion Kreuger of Lansing spent the week end at his home here.

Mrs. Richard Lovely spent last week visiting at the home of her parents in Bay City. Mr. Lovely drove down to accompany her home.

Attorney Merle F. Nellist and Engineer C. A. Miller went to Saginaw Tuesday with about $37,300.00 in signed bonds and deposited them with the Second National Bank. That means that money for the construction of the waterworks will be available at once and preliminary work will begin soon.

A resolution was passed by the village council Monday night providing for the removal of rubbish from the homes monthly during the year except in winter. Rubbish must be placed in containers convenient for handling. Ashes are not to be included. This is done to help to keep Grayling a clean and healthy city. Empty cans left about for months become filled with water and form hatching places for vermin and become filthy and often times the cause of illness.

The Village council passed a resolution Monday night cancelling the Michigan Public Service Co. contracts for street lighting and electric power for the pump house. The contracts expire next summer and can only be cancelled by either party serving notice of such intention sixty days before the date of expiration. If not cancelled in due time the contract automatically renews itself for a term of ten years. Now is the time to dictate terms and not accept a contract that is not to our liking. We've been paying $2.00 a month for each street light outside of the downtown boulevard lights. That charge is much too high.

Wilson & Switzer have opened a wholesale meat and meat products establishment here. It is located in the former Douglas garage building north of the hotel Annex. Mr. Wilson resides in Gaylord. Mr. Switzer (Walter) was formerly a salesman for the Peet Packing Co. of Cheesaning. This firm will serve a territory from West Branch north to the Straits of Mackinaw, and east and west from Traverse City to Alpena. They will operate two refrigerated trucks for distribution of products to retailers. Mr. Switzer will be in charge of the local plant and, with his wife, will make his home in Grayling. They already have a fine stock of meats, meat products, cheeses and other market articles on hand and are ready to serve the north country with wholesale service that will mean better retail service for the consumers.

City Incorporation Notes.

It will be the duty of the charter commission that is to be elected by the people to determine the form of government to be used. The type of government determined upon will later have to be approved by the voters in a subsequent election.

With Grayling as a fifth class city, there will be no change in school costs nor will it change the geography of the school district. School taxes will remain the same as they have been in the past and is in no way effected by the change in government.

Villages of Michigan that have incorporated as fifth class home rule governments, such as Grayling is voting for, strongly approve the change and claim that it is a fine improvement in government and are glad they made the change. Vote yes March 11th and assist Grayling to get into that satisfied class.

If the incorporation of Grayling as a fifth-class city was going to increase cost, there might be something to argue about. But the principal reason for doing so is to reduce our cost of government. Let's get out from under the unnecessary township government, with its duplication of cost and effort, by voting yes on the incorporation question.

With Grayling being organized as a fifth class city it will NOT be necessary to divide the city into wards. The voting unit will remain as one just as it is now. And we will not have to establish a police force nor paid fire department as many seem to believe. The fifth-class plan of city government was designed and act enacted by the legislature purposely to get away from the provisions required of a fourth class city.

Those elected as charter commissioners, according to action of the village council Monday night, will receive the magnificent salary of $1.00 to be divided among nine men in payment for several nights and days of hard, serious work. The commissioners elected will have to draw up the charter laws and ordinances for the city and put them into form for submission to the voters for their ratification. No doubt there will be a lot of midnight oil burned but it is for the good of our community and these men will serve, practically without pay.

People never get tired of seeing deer. Now is an ideal time to see them in droves as the heavy snows in the woods and swamps drive them out into the clearings. It is common to see from one to a dozen almost any day in the military reservation.

ter raged, only to have Beebe break the deadlock with a pretty one-hand shot and then Welking added a free throw. Borowiak came back with a long one and the noise was so great when the game ended that the ball couldn't be heard. It was a pretty battle as hard-fought as any game ever was.

Gaylord 25—Grayling 18
Grayling lost this affair in the third quarter. Up until that time Grayling had led consistently, and the half showed them with a 10 to 18 lead. As the game restarted Grayling began to shoot and connect. Long shots became the big weapon, and five times the ball came down through for points. By the time the eight minute period was over the game was really decided. The score stood at 22-13 for Gaylord. Grayling picked up a little ground in the last frame, but not enough to do any damage to the Blue and Gold lead. The finale gave Ken Hoelsi, a Grayling Senior, a chance to wind up his high school basketball shooting a free throw all alone after the game was over. He tossed the ball square on the iron hoop, but it didn't go down and it wouldn't have won the game anyway.

SCHOOL AFFAIRS

Red Wings Win

The intra-mural league swung into action following the tournament. The schedule stood with the Celtics playing the Red Wings last Monday evening which the Red Wings took by a score of 14 to 18.

The scoring attack for the Red Wings was led by Charles Muth with 8 points, and Smith led the Celtics with 8 points also. This gives the Red Wings a percentage of 178, compared to 573 for the Celtics and 833 for the Trojans.

"THREE BOYS GO CAMPING"

So enthusiastic has been the attitude of school authorities toward the introduction of conservation education in Michigan's schools that upwards of 60,000 sixth-grade pupils already have had opportunity to read the booklet "Three Boys Go Camping," the Department of Conservation announced today.

The supplementary teachers' manual, "Exploring Michigan Resources in the Junior High School Classroom," has been supplied on request to 6,500 junior high school and high school teachers.

According to the Michigan Department of Public Instruction, many of the requests expressed enthusiasm over the plan of introducing the brief study-course in conservation. Numerous requests for the two booklets have been received from sources outside the state, including several of the larger universities.

The booklets have had an even distribution in the urban and rural schools of Michigan. One of the first requests came from Detroit, calling for a sufficient supply for every elementary school in the city.

Heaton estimates that the sixth-grade booklet is now in schools attended by approximately one-fourth of all the sixth-grade pupils of the state. The booklets were prepared under joint auspices of the Department of Public Instruction and the Department of Conservation. They are furnished without charge.

New Deal Sighs Relief as Supreme Court O. K.'s Gold Laws—President Urges Congress to Extend NRA Two More Years.

By EDWARD W. PICKARD

© Western Newspaper Union.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT and the New Dealers breathed easier after the United States Supreme court handed down its decision sustaining invalidation of "gold clauses" in private contracts.

But not on federal bonds. While it was held that the government must pay off its bonds in gold or its equivalent in devalued currency, another ruling that the Court of Claims had no jurisdiction over such cases means that it would be impossible for holders of federal bonds to collect on their old gold basis. In other words, the holder of a $1,000 federal bond is entitled to a technical value of $1,690, but in reality it would be impractical to make any collection of that amount, since the Court of Claims is the only tribunal before which suits against the government may be taken, and other courts may not entertain such suits without a special act of congress.

The court also held that those who held gold certificates had no cause of action and could not sue the government. The power of congress to deal with currency was fully upheld.

Briefly the ruling said: 1. Congress has the power to nullify promises to pay in gold contained in the bonds of private corporations.

2. A gold certificate is worth only its face value in present devalued currency. Congressional power over the currency includes the right to establish circumstances under which gold certificates need not be redeemed in gold or its equivalent.

3. Congress has no authority under the Constitution to abrogate the payment-in-gold clause of government bonds, but, as no actual damage has been done, therefore there is no basis for suit for recovery.

The decision was read by Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, who voted with Justices Brandeis, Stone, Roberts and Cardozo in the majority. Dissenters were Justices McReynolds, Van Devanter, Sutherland and Butler, the four so-called conservatives.

Not only this country, but the entire world, awaited what the "nine lonely old men" of the Supreme court had to say about the Roosevelt monetary policies. The decision is ranked with the court's decision in the Dartmouth college case in 1818 which upheld the sanctity of contract, and in the Dred Scott slavery case in 1857 which had much to do with hastening the outbreak of the Civil war.

Satisfaction within the administration was evident at once. Justice McReynolds was spokesman for the dissenters. He unleashed a scathing attack on the majority views. His voice vibrant, he said:

"The Constitution as we have known it is gone."

"If given effect, the enactments here challenged will bring about confiscation of property rights and repudiation of national obligations."

"Just men regarded spoliation of citizens by their sovereign with abhorrence, but we are asked to affirm that the Constitution has granted power to accomplish both."

"No definite delegation of such a power exists; and we cannot believe the far-seeing framers, who labored with hope of establishing justice and securing the blessings of liberty, intended that the expected government should have authority to annihilate its own obligations and destroy the very rights which they were endeavoring to protect."

Notified that Chief Justice Hughes was reading the decision, President Roosevelt went to the cabinet room, where he listened to telephonic reports from an aid. The Chief Executive was prepared to take swift action to protect the credit of the government in case an adverse decision was handed down, but executive orders were unnecessary. The carefully prepared program was not needed.

of wages and hours was practical and necessary. Answering recent protests of labor, he said: "The rights of employees freely to organize for the purpose of collective bargaining should be fully protected."

He urged more strict application of anti-trust laws, condemned monopolies and private price fixing, opposed hindrances to fair competition, and proposed further protection of small enterprises against discrimination and oppression.

His suggestions, if adopted, would keep code violators from behind the bars. "The way to enforce laws, codes and regulations relating to industrial practices is not to seek to put people in jail," he said.

Admitting some mistakes, the President was well satisfied that the NRA had done a good job considering its short existence.

"Only carping critics and those who seek political advantage and the right again to indulge in unfair practices or exploitation of labor or consumers deliberately seek to quarrel over the obvious fact that a great code of law, of order and of decent business cannot be created in a day or a year," Mr. Roosevelt declared.

All details of the legislation were left to congress. While this is in progress, the senate finance committee proposes to conduct the Nye-McCarran investigation of the NRA administration and codes. The judiciary subcommittee reported no funds available, but the inquiry, which has the President's approval, will be attempted without money.

MORE than 100 men were reported killed or wounded in a skirmish in the "demilitarized" zone which lies between Manchukuo and China north of Tientsin. The clash was between the recently formed Peace Preservation corps and the Lwanchow militia. The Peace Preservation corps, which has the approval of the Chinese government, was receiving money and arms from the Japanese. It was alleged. The militia is supported by local Chinese interests. While the battle was raging, Wang Ching-wei, premier of the Chinese Nationalist government, and Koki Hirota, Japanese foreign minister, expressed themselves as desirous of peace between the two nations.

FINGERPRINT records of every citizen of the United States, on file in Washington, along with those of John Dillinger, Al Capone, and even John D. Rockefeller, Jr., would go far toward ending kidnappings and serious crimes, says Attorney General Homer S. Cummings. He urged that all Americans obtain free fingerprint cards from the fingerprint department, imprint their marks and send the results to Washington.

VICTOR A. CHRISTGAU, demoted from his position of second ranking officer of the AAA in the recent shake-up which involved several alleged radicals, resigned in protest. Chester C. Davis, administrator, had not accepted the resignation and Secretary of Agriculture Wallace was attempting to persuade Christgau to change his mind.

Wallace hinted that there had been differences between Christgau and A. H. Lauterbach, chief of the AAA dairy section, over the milk policy. A protégé of Undersecretary Rexford Guy Tugwell, Christgau was also supposed to have encountered "friction" with other members of the department. This gave rise to new rumors that Brain Truster Wallace will resign before his influence in the AAA is too severely curtailed by the demotion and ouster of his conferees.

Meanwhile amendments to the Agricultural Adjustment act were declared to conceal dangerous, arbitrary and autocratic powers over farmers, manufacturers and distributors of farm products by the legislative committee of the agricultural industries conference in Washington. The committee cited the provision that the AAA may require that a licensed processor purchase only from those who sign contracts. It charges that the amendments make no provision for the farmer to express himself in the matter of licenses, but contain provisions for price control, markets, production and purchasing. Through indirect restriction of the farmer's market, these provisions are equivalent to a licensing of the farmer, according to the committee. "The entire economic life of communities could be directed from Washington," the committee said.

BRUNO RICHARD HAUPTMANN escaped the electric chair at least temporarily when a writ of error filed by defense attorneys earned him a stay of execution sentence which was to be carried out at Trenton, N. J., March 18. The Bronx carpenter's life is safe at least until September or October, since a further appeal can be made to the court of pardons if the court of errors and appeals fails to uphold the writ. Lloyd C. Fisher and Frederick A. Pope presented the appeal after a battle with Chief Defense Counsel Edward J. Reilly, who subsequently threatened that either he or Fisher would have to withdraw from the Hauptmann defense. The hearing will probably take place at the next session of the court, which begins May 21.

Part of the discussion among defense attorneys was thought to exist because Reilly never challenged the assumption that the body of the dead baby was that of Lindbergh's son. George H. Foster, former investigator for the defense, declared that the baby could not have been Lindy's because it was four inches taller than Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr.; was in a less identifiable condition than would have been possible in the mild weather following the kidnapping, and was embalmed.

BREAKING the tenth commandment is breaking the law in England. Alexander Frederick Churchill, 51, of Cookham Dean, Berkshire, coveted the "perfect" serving maid of his neighbor, Herbert Mercer Stretch, and enticed her away from him. For this the civil court fined him $125. It assessed him another $1,250 for asserting in a telegram that Stretch borrowed money from the maid, Edith Saville, whose affairs were the talk of John Bull's island, where perfect serving maids are hard to get and hard to keep. Sir was also forced to pay court costs totaling $2,000.

ON THE heels of the Supreme court's gold ruling, former President Herbert Hoover demanded re-establishment of the gold standard in the United States as the only way "to restore confidence in our currency." This could only be done by making the dollar immediately convertible at the present 59 cents of gold—the modern method of specie payment.

The only living ex-President said that such action would put more of the 12,000,000 unemployed men back to work than any other step. The United States should take the lead in returning to the standard, he said, declaring that, "There is no need to wait for foreign nations before we re-establish the gold standard and restore confidence in our currency. They would be bound to follow some time. They are more afraid of our doing just this than they are of any American 'managed currency.'"

THIRTY-ONE inmates shot and killed a guard in a spectacular break from the Oklahoma state prison at Granite, the only male penal institution administered by a woman warden. Thirteen were captured shortly afterward and a man-hunt is on for the others. The fugitives used two guns which had been smuggled to them, forced a "trustee" turnkey to open up for them, corralled 20 visitors in the visitors' room and, using them for a shield, made their escape. Her prison already the subject of investigation into its moral and managerial standards, the warden, Mrs. G. A. "Mother" Walters, was ordered replaced by a man, Gov. E. W. Marshall declaring that a woman "just can't manage" a prison. Defiantly, she refused to clear out until completed investigations had vindicated her.

REALM LEADER HITLER refused to exercise his prerogative of mercy and two Berlin society women were beheaded by the official executioner for divulging military secrets. Another woman and a Polish nobleman were sentenced to life imprisonment at hard work. The execution of the two women was carried out at dawn with such secrecy that it was hours before their exact fate could be learned.

The two women went to their death with a calm courage that should be an example for the strongest men, an eye witness reported. The sensational publicity awakened by the execution was expected to induce Hitler to commute the sentences of two men spies scheduled to be beheaded in the same manner soon.

STEPS to curb the inroads of Japanese landholders in the rich hemp growing provinces of Davao are being taken by the Philippine government. Strict application of insular laws governing land holding by aliens will be made, according to Enologo Rodriguez, secretary of agriculture, who schemes a wholesale cancellation of subleases of public lands, which he maintains are illegal. A recent survey, Rodriguez asserts, shows the Japanese control 128,000 acres in the province, and that leases to 64,372 acres are illegally held.

Camp News

Camp Higgins

Capt. G. E. Murphy, commanding officer, is away this week on a leave of absence which he is spending at his home in Berrien Springs.

Camp Higgins Lake virtually assured itself of the district basketball championship by recently defeating Camp Fife Lake. Remaining games in the schedule are practically conceded victories for Company 672, or forfeited games.

Recreational trips made with company transportation into Grayling are being supervised by designating either a leader or assistant leader for police duty during the trip.

A state-wide meeting of technical men with the ECW, camp superintendents and foresters in the lower peninsula convened at this camp last Thursday and Friday. About 50 were present, including George Young, state director of the Emergency Conservation Work, and Assistant State Forester McIntire, the latter having general charge of the session.

To encourage a greater circulation of books among enrollees more shelving facilities are being provided for the camp library. Nearly 250 books were checked out of the library during February and it is hoped this number can be doubled. More good books are needed, however.

Camp Pioneer

Capt. George T. Rolan, commanding officer, is taking a week's leave of absence to visit Detroit and Canada. Mrs. Rolan, who is visiting parents in the Dominion, will return with him. They expect to rent a cottage on Higgins Lake for their home.

William Eling received a medical discharge Friday at his own request and returned to his home in Falmouth. He enrolled with this organization July 10th. This leaves the company strength at 175.

Lieut. Frank Kornrumpf, formerly with Co. 1611 but more recently of Camp Fife Lake, is temporarily at Camp AuSable.

Seventy-five steel cots were received last week to replace old canvas ones. Nearly 70 more have been requisitioned so that all men will shortly have this more substantial and comfortable equipment.

Ralph Bishop has been receiving some skillful medical attention from Lieut. Katzman at the camp infirmary for a painful abscess under the chin.

The fifth enrollment period for the CCC starts April 1, if Congress continues the organization. Men are asked to indicate now whether or not they wish to re-enroll.

A LONG HARD PULL

If there is one enterprise on earth that the quitter should leave alone, it is advertising. Advertising does not jerk—it pulls. It begins gently at first, but the pull is steady. It increases day by day, year by year, until it exerts an irresistible power.—John Wanamaker.
